The Inner Quality of Catholicity The catholicity of the Church is not a quantitative or a geographical conception. It does not at all depend on the world-wide dispersion of the faithful. The universality of the Church is the consequence or.

THE CATHOLICITY OF CHRISTIANITY AND THE CHURCH¹ by HERMAN BAVINCK According to the ninth article of our undoubted Christian faith we confess the universality or catholicity of the one, holy Christian Church. The origin and initial significance of this term is completely unknown to us. The Catholicity of the Church is made attractive by the intellectual virtues we have come to associate with its author."-- Theological Studies "This is a fine book, providing a framework for fruitful dialogue among Christians of all traditions."--Reviews: 1. The Church is Catholic (meaning "universal") in two ways. First, the Church is universal because Christ is present in her. She receives from him "the fullness of the means of salvation." In this fundamental sense, the Church was Catholic on the day of Pentecost and will be so until Christ returns.
